The West Virginia Hardwood Alliance Zone consists of twelve counties in the heart of West Virginia's hardwood region. We provide a competitive advantage to the hardwood industry business in relation to relocation, expansion, and development.

Three distinctions set us apart from other locations: abundant natural resources located near major transportation, a highly skilled labor force available at competitive wages, and an outstanding quality of life.

Disclaimer: This directory was assembled using a number of sources and methods to help provide you with a list of businesses within the twelve-county region of the West Virginia Hardwood Alliance Zone. We have made our best efforts to ensure that all businesses have been included, but it is possible that we have missed someone. If you do not see your business and would like to be included in future versions of this Directory, your business's contact information has changed, or there is someone that you do regular business with and would like to have added in the future, please contact us at info@westvirginiahaz.com.
